DJ BABY G

BIOGRAPHY

Georgina Fernandez, a.k.a. Baby G, is a Berlin-based DJ and electronic producer who's been spreading her disco-electronica love around the globe since the mid-nineties — from Miami and New York to Brazil, Thailand and all over Europe.

In the mid nineties, when the explosion of the club scene was happening in Spain and particularly in Barcelona, she was already a regular Dj spinning Deep House and Garage in some of the best clubs and festivals in the area, Moog, Otto Zutz, La Boite, Doctor Music Festival, BAM.

By the end of the nineties she created her own Tribal Vibes parties, and began experimenting with breaks, drum and bass, disco beats and diffusing quality electronic music all over Europe.

In summer 2001, Baby G was chosen from 15,000 aspiring contenders to travel to New York on a scholarship, to participate in the Red Bull Music Academy (RBMA), after that her DJing expanded all over the world...

In addition to her DJing duties, Baby G is the head of Dance Disorder, the electronic act from Berlin finest's Bpitch Control Records. A true music fan who has spun in the hottest clubs in the world, alongside some of the most talented DJs on the planet, Baby G won't be hanging up her headphones anytime soon. "I can't imagine myself doing anything outside music. It's who I am."
