

Press Release

CNBC announces 15th Asia Business Leaders Awards

Pioneering Fin-tech Company Six Capital confirmed as Sponsor

SINGAPORE, 21 April 2016 - CNBC, First in Business Worldwide, announced today that the 15th Asia Business Leaders Awards will take place in Jakarta on 23 November 2016. Six Capital, a pioneering company leveraging “New Game” technology advances and innovations headquartered in Singapore, is confirmed as sponsor.

The Asia Business Leaders Awards (ABLA), CNBC’s flagship awards event in Asia, was pioneered in 2001 to salute and recognise remarkable business leaders, who through strength, innovation and foresight induce positive change in an evolving corporate Asia.

Nominations for the awards will open to Asia’s top performing companies in April 2016.

As the sponsor to CNBC’s flagship awards event in Asia, the partnership with Six Capital will also involve the creation of a series of commercial assets which will run across CNBC’s Asia Pacific programming from July to November 2016.

The sponsorship was recognised at a signing ceremony in CNBC’s London studio in March 2016 by KC Sullivan, President and Managing Director of CNBC International and Patrick Teng, Founder and Executive Chairman of Six Capital.

“We are delighted to have Six Capital as a sponsor of the 15th Asia Business Leaders Awards. Six Capital’s growth and presence in Asia is truly inspiring, and we are pleased to have the opportunity to harness their expertise in order to celebrate those who have shaped the Asian economy in the past fifteen years,” said Sullivan.

“The Asia Business Leaders Awards acknowledge remarkable business leaders who are helping to advance corporate Asia. At Six Capital we have always strived to harness innovative methods of value creation and so it is great to be able to recognize those companies that have been most successful and are pushing boundaries. Every day, we hear positive stories of growth and new opportunities from across the region, and we are extremely proud to partner with CNBC to celebrate these achievements,” added Teng.

More information about the ABLA, judging process and nomination process is available online at www.abla.cnbc.com

- End -

Contact Information:Mike Cheong

Communications Manager, CNBC Asia Pacific

Mike.Cheong@nbcuni.com

D: +65 6326 1123

M: +65 9852 8630

Humza Vanderman

Associate Partner, Finsbury for Six Capital

Humza.vanderman@finsbury.com

D: +65 6597 7373

About CNBC

CNBC is the leading global broadcaster of live business and financial news and information, reporting directly from the major financial markets around the globe with three regional networks including CNBC in Asia, CNBC in EMEA and CNBC in the US. CNBC.com is the preeminent financial news source on the web, featuring an unprecedented amount of video, real-time market analysis, web-exclusive live video and analytical financial tools. CNBC is dedicated to CEOs, senior corporate executives; the financial services industry and private investors. The channel is available in 385 million homes worldwide. CNBC is a division of NBCUniversal.

For more information on CNBC, please visit www.cnbc.com

About Six Capital

Six Capital is a pioneering company leveraging on “New Game” technology advances and innovations and paradigms to disrupt and/or enable existing industries and businesses to give individuals access to new forms of breakthrough value-creating opportunities.

Its unique business model currently harnesses innovative methods of value co-creation, crowd-sourcing power, digital engagement, data analytics and collaborative ecosystems across the fields of currency trading, alternative investments, healthcare, education and social enterprise.