The earthquakes which have hit the Northern part of Italy did not damage the factory of Automobili Lamborghini in Sant'Agata Bolognese which is perfectly accessible nor did they affect the Gallardo production.

Since some key Aventador suppliers have had to slow down and in some cases relocate production of specific key components, there might be potential delays in the delivery of the V12 supercars.

Lamborghini is working with the local authorities and its partners to rebuild and to normalize supply as quickly and safely as possible.

Furthermore Lamborghini decided to help those employees and their families who live in the area around the epicenter. This includes the possibility of an anticipated holiday allowance, but also an individual help to those who have been particularly hit by the earthquake.

In order to guarantee the future of the students in the region Lamborghini decided to provide financial support in the field of education, in particular for the reconstruction of five laboratories that are part of school centers in the affected region.
