The Lamborghini Huracán LP 610-4 takes to the track with Lamborghini Accademia 2014

After its official unveiling at the Geneva Motor Show in March, and having garnered more than 1500 orders from all over the world, the new supercar from the House of the Raging Bull is playing the starring role in Lamborghini Accademia 2014, which takes to the grid on 2 June in Imola.

Sant'Agata Bolognese, Italy, 28 May 2014 – Lamborghini Accademia is holding its first 2014 session on June 2 to 4 at Imola Racetrack. The lead role is awarded to the Lamborghini Huracán LP 610-4, the new luxury super sports car unveiled at the Geneva Motor Show in March.

The Lamborghini Accademia program, by Lamborghini Squadra Corse, provides Lamborghini customers with intensive driving courses on the track, so they can take their first steps into the world of motor racing. “Learning by doing is best” is the philosophy behind the Accademia, which offers two programs - one intensive and one advanced - with a team of professional instructors who have extensive experience in the racing world.

The Accademia provides the remarkable opportunity to fully experience the potential of Lamborghini super sports cars on both track and ice (Winter Accademia). It's a captivating combination of high performance vehicles on some of the world's legendary race tracks.

The racing program is a real challenge for Lamborghini customers, as it includes multiple training sessions broken down into exercises such as slaloms, acceleration, braking and drifting. Each day on track is designed for a maximum of 24 participants, who will be divided into small groups. They all receive a certificate from the Lamborghini Squadra Corse at the end of the course.

After the session at Imola in early June, Lamborghini Accademia takes to the road with stops at the famous Laguna Seca circuit in the United States on September 15 to 17, and at Hockenheim, Germany on October 1 and 2. The winter sessions on snow and ice that are scheduled for 2015 will again take place on three dates in Europe, Asia and America.
