terrex Climaheat Agravic Down Jacket

The terrex Climaheat Agravic Down Jacket is an innovative insulation jacket providing best warmth-to-weight ratio. The highlight is the heat seal baffling construction where every other baffle is bigger, ensuring the overlap of stitching lines to eliminate any cold spots. Additional heat seals at the cuffs and collar keep the warm air trapped inside the jacket. The RDS-certified down filling and the Pertex Quantum® GL fabric make the jacket as light as possible. Neatly packed into its pack-it chest pocket it is the perfect companion on any outdoor activity on colder days.

The lightweight terrex Climaheat Agravic Down Jacket received the 2015 Outdoor Industry Gold Award thanks to its high degree of innovation, workmanship and functionality. The jury was clearly excited by the innovative heat seal baffling construction: “The adidas terrex Climaheat Agravic Down Jacket convinces with its innovative well thought-out down chamber design. The seams overlap to minimize the development of cold bridges”. The panel was also impressed by the freedom of movement, collar solution and excellent fit.

Features & Benefits:

- Heat seal baffling: every other baffle covers stitching lines, eliminating cold spots through overlap
- Heat seals: at the cuffs, collar and hem to keep the warmth inside the jacket
- Pertex Quantum® GL: lightweight and strong while offering good Durable Water Repellency (DWR)
- RDS-certified filling: 90/10 goose down with 800 fill power
- Adjustable hood
- Elastic waist with draw cords for adjustability
- Pack-it pocket
