adidas Originals – EQT Support ADV PK

Complementing January's blacked out iteration of the contemporary Equipment silhouette, adidas Originals announces the release of a new version of the EQT Support ADV Primeknit model, this time assuming a fresh striped Primeknit upper.

Starting with a full stretch Primeknit upper the EQT Support ADV Primeknit is structured by a soft mold heel panel and the signature Equipment 3-stripes webbed tape lacing system, with essential elements like the EQT Support's 3-stripes midsole detail retained in full. The shoe's vivid two-tone black and white palette is then offset by a flash of Turbo Red on the heel, creating a clean, contemporary release with a taste of what's to come in the latest chapter of EQT.
