adidas Originals – EQT Support RF

A refined update to the original EQT Support silhouette, the EQT Support RF receives two brand new color treatments this month, applying a striking pastel palette to the shoe's uncompromizing design language.

Combining classic 90s footwear design with contemporary technical elements, the shoe features a Primeknit upper with blocking in keeping with the original EQT Support blueprint, structured by an external heel cage and TPU support piece. The release then sees the EQT Support RF rendered in a nostalgic Frozen Green colorway, countered by a monochrome Black/White edition that strips the shoe to its purest form. Each shoe is finished off with the EQT Support's signature compression-molded EVA midsole with integrated 3-stripes and Torsion® system, culminating as a modern update to the original EQT Support silhouette with a subtle nod to the colorways of the shoe's inaugural era.
