EQT Support RF (& W)

A refined approach to an adidas Equipment classic, the EQT Support RF model receives two new treatments this season for men and women, courtesy of adidas Originals.

First up, a men's iteration of the silhouette assumes a classic 90s running materialway, featuring a mesh construction with suede panels and welded overlay details. Classic details such as an asymmetrical wraparound tongue, TPU support piece and heel panel and webbing tape 3-stripes lace system are restored in full. Rendered in a Carbon Black colorway, it's an understated approach that brings classic adidas footwear design to the fore.

For the women's edition, a slightly altered approach counters a mesh vamp with nubuck panels and roller knit textile on the tongue and quarter. Original EQT Support elements are retained in full, whilst the shoe's blacked-out upper is offset only by a crisp white midsole with turquoise integrated 3-stripes-mark detail. Viewed alongside each other, the two new iterations culminate as a softly-spoken testament to the enduring aesthetic of the original Equipment series.
