Tubular Dawn W

This season the adidas Originals Tubular dawn has been given a classic update in two bold new colorways.

The women's exclusive model features a matte mesh construction, with a webbing tape 3-stripes mark and striking lacing system. Detailing on the heel includes a nubuck panel with a reflective 3D silicone print. This is then placed atop a classic EVA midsole with a translucent rubber insert, finished with adidas branding on the tongue and heel. Offered in understated Core Black and White colorways, it's an essential monochrome release of the Tubular series' most aggressive women's-exclusive silhouette.

The Tubular Dawn Product is available from the 19th of August on.
