

TOUR360 BOA BOOST Now Available

Following the release of the adidas TOUR360 BOOST, the TOUR360 BOA BOOST is now available and features the most advanced use of a Boa® Closure System, an incremental pull and push structure located on the top center tongue. The product teams at adidas Golf and Boa® collaborated together for 18 months as the footwear was being developed and worked seamlessly integrate the Boa® 360LOOP to the 360WRAP to enable fast and easy micro-adjustability for a customizable and comfortable fit.

“The partnership with Boa® is exciting because we push each other to the limits to find new and innovative ways to incorporate Boa® technology into adidas Golf footwear. The ultimate goal is to take performance to the next level.”

— Masun Denison, Director of Footwear at adidas Golf

The TOUR360 BOA BOOST features the same features and benefit of the TOUR360 BOOST (premium leather upper with climaproof technology, full-length boost™ midsole foam, duel-density 10-cleat puremotion® TPU outsole with CenTraXion and thintech® cleat, TORSION TUNNEL) and uses Boa®’s nylon-coated NC722 laces, which weaves together 49 strands of stainless steel lace, incorporated into the iconic 360WRAP. The laces and 360WRAP are connected together via a new innovative 360loop guide and an IP1 Boa® dial offers infinite levels of adjustment, allowing players to release or increase tension one click at a time. The TOUR360 BOA BOOST is the only footwear in the golf market that features the IP1 Boa® dial.

The TOUR360 BOA BOOST provides unmatched support, stability, comfort and performance for golfers.
