Forum Lo W / Lux Snake

This month, the low-top iteration of an adidas archive classic makes its return in a luxury material makeup, exclusive to women.

Staying true to the OG design, the latest release of the Forum Lo W translates the original shoe's blueprint into a clean, fashion-forward context, using premium materials and contemporary color-blocking to transform the shoe's identity. Across the toe-box, vamp and 3-Stripe mark, a smooth grey leather has been used, countered at the rear by snakeskin leather panels in a complementary tonal grey. Trefoil logo branding on the shoe's lateral side and ankle strap complete the picture, placed atop the distinctive Forum midsole tooling in white. The result is an elevated take on a low-cut classic that places the Forum Lo silhouette in a subtle, feminine light.
