Forum Mid

Continuing the return of an iconic 3-Stripe mark, this week marks the return of the Forum Mid courtesy of adidas Originals.

Faithful to the original blueprint of the Forum Mid design, the release features a full-leather upper in a classic white colorway with contrast blue details on the 3-Stripe mark and ankle panels. Most importantly, the shoe's hook-and-loop ankle strap is restored in full, completing the look.

One subtle update to the shoe's design is apparent in the tooling, switching out a classic rubber midsole for adidas' modern bounce material, providing improved support and comfort without disrupting the shoe's iconic design. The result is a welcome return of an adidas classic, reinvented for 2017.
