

adidas Golf Athletes 'Geared For More' at U.S. Open

Johnson, Day and Garcia to wear styles from the adidas Golf Autumn / Winter 2016 Range

The U.S. Open returns to Oakmont Country Club in a few days and adidas Golf is excited to share the apparel scripting to be worn by its key athletes this week. Dustin Johnson, Jason Day and Sergio Garcia will be Geared For More as they hit the links in the city of bridges.

Dustin Johnson remains motivated in his quest for a Major win. He will look bold in blue as he takes on the course wearing two different polos, the climacool® gradient polo and the climacool performance polo, both of which utilise climacool technology for zonal cooling.

GEARED FOR MORE™

The World's #1 Jason Day will sport a new Autumn/Winter polo, the climachill™ print block polo, which features climachill fabric for maximum cooling through 360° ventilation, and the climacool 3-Stripes polo as he takes on the second Major. He will also be dialed in wearing TOUR360 BOA BOOST footwear throughout the week.

GEARED FOR MORE™

Sergio Garcia will be on trend in colour blocked polos with pops of pink. Wearing three different polos throughout the tournament, including the climacool engineered stripe polo, climachill blocked polo and climachill 3-Stripes competition polo, Garcia will pair his polos with the ultimate pant, which features a stretch waistband with silicone gripper, moisture-wicking and water resistant stretch fabrication, and snag-free micromesh pockets.
