

Information

I-5923

This month, the adidas Originals Iniki silhouette becomes the I-5923 shoe, inspired by archive adidas running models.

The I-5923 is named after one of the articles in the adidas archive and takes some of the unique classic 70s running features of adidas archive shoes into a clean, modern design.

True to the formula of the models that inform it, the I-5923 silhouette features a knitted mesh construction with premium suede overlays on the toebox, lace-system and heel. The tonal serrated 3-stripes mark complete shoe's the nostalgic aesthetic, rounded off with essential Trefoil logo branding on the heel panel and tongue, and I-5923 shoe details on the lateral side. This is then placed atop a Boost midsole tooling with a gum rubber outsole, completing the shoe's calculated blend of classic and contemporary design.

For its release, the I-5923 shoe will have a limited run in Crystal White and Core Red colorways, creating a striking outing for a shoe that carries adidas' enduring legacy into a new era.
