Case IH telescopic loaders launched at LAMMA

The new Case IH Farmlift range of telescopic loaders will be seen for the first time in the UK at LAMMA 2014.

Combining compact dimensions, powerful engines and hydraulics with multi-functional capabilities, the six models range from the agile Farmlift 525, designed especially for use in low buildings and livestock housing, to the powerful Farmlift 935, which handles high and heavy lifting work with ease. Power outputs are from 74hp for the Farmlift 525 up to 143hp for Farmlift 635 and 742 models, with maximum lift heights from 5.7m to 9.6m.

Case IH Farmlift telescopic loaders benefit from the most modern transmission technology, ensuring that they are rapid on the road and have the full force needed for high-output loading tasks. The 632 and 935 models feature a 4x3 powershift transmission, while for the 635 and 742 models a 6x3 powershift with autoshift-function is available, enabling a maximum travel speed of 40km/h.

PRESS RELEASE

All Farmlift models are equipped with a comfortable, spacious, fully-glazed operator's cab offering optimum visibility. All essential functions, such as boom operation, direction of travel and gear selection are placed at the driver's fingertips via the machine's joystick.

As standard, Case IH Farmlift models have a hydraulic flow capacity from 80 up to 120 l/min, while the 635 and 742 feature a variable-displacement pump with a capacity of 140 l/min. All are equipped with four-wheel drive, while three different steering modes can be selected for excellent manoeuvrability and a tight turning circle.
