

CASE Offers Limited-Time Three-Year, 3,000-Hour Complete Factory Warranty on All Skid Steers and Compact Track Loaders

Special warranty offer expires Sept. 30, 2015

Racine, Wis., June 1, 2015

CASE Construction Equipment is now offering a three-year, 3,000-hour complete factory warranty on its entire line of skid steers and compact track loaders. This includes all new models, such as the brand new SR270 – the industry’s largest radial-lift skid steer – and the TR310 compact track loader.

The offer, which expires Sept. 30, covers all units sold through retail channels and comes at no additional cost to the customer.

“CASE was the first OEM to take its entire line of skid steers and compact track loaders Tier 4 Final, and we want to highlight the quality and performance advances that have been made by standing behind these machines for the first three years of ownership,” says Warren Anderson, brand marketing manager, CASE Construction Equipment. “This special, limited-time warranty will allow business owners to invest with confidence in the latest technologies that offer significant efficiencies and performance improvements over older models.”
