NEW HOLLAND, PA. – February 25, 2015

“Peace of mind. That’s one of the most important components of New Holland’s new Certified Pre-Owned \(CPO\) program for late model CR and CX Series combines and T8 and T9 Series high-horsepower tractors,” says Mark Hooper, New Holland’s North American Director of Marketing.

“New Holland combines and tractors are not only recognized as leaders in comfort, productivity and operating efficiency, they’re also known for quality and reliability,” says Hooper. “For many producers, purchasing New Holland Certified Pre-Owned equipment is a smart investment because it allows them to buy late model, used New Holland equipment with the assurance that it’s been thoroughly inspected and serviced. For even more peace of mind, we’re backing the Certified Pre-Owned units with an extended powertrain warranty with no deductible on all major engine and drivetrain components.”

Comprehensive equipment inspection

Before being certified, every combine and tractor undergoes a comprehensive inspection and fluids analysis by factory-trained dealer service technicians. The equipment is meticulously examined and serviced. Any part that doesn’t meet New Holland’s rigorous standards is replaced with a genuine factory-authorized part.

Extended powertrain warranty with $0 deductible

There’s added value to New Holland Certified Pre-Owned equipment as well. “We have confidence in the quality and durability of our products,” says Hooper. “That’s why every Certified Pre-Owned combine or tractor is backed by New Holland’s Extended Powertrain Protection Plan.”

The Extended Powertrain Protection Plan includes powertrain protection for 12 months/2,500 total engine hours (whichever comes first) for T8 and T9 Series tractors, and 12 months/2,000 total engine hours (whichever comes first) for CR and CX Series combines. The plan covers the engine, final drive lines, driveline (tractors), transmission, rotor drive, hydrostatic pump and motor (combines), engine-mounted PTO, header drive components and gear boxes (combines). There is $0 deductible under the Certified Pre-Owned program, and the warranty can be transferred to a new owner at no cost.

$100 Reward Card for the purchase of Genuine New Holland Parts

In addition, a $100 Reward Card, which can be used to purchase Genuine New Holland Parts at a New Holland dealership, is issued with each Certified Pre-Owned unit.

First-class service and parts support from New Holland dealers

New Holland dealers who offer Certified Pre-Owned combines and tractors have factory-certified technicians who have access to New Holland diagnostic equipment, special tools, and genuine factory parts to ensure first-class service and parts support.
