

CNH Industrial hosts United States Senator John Hoeven at Fargo Plant

Burr Ridge, November 22, 2017

CNH Industrial (NYSE: CNHI /MI: CNHI) hosted United States Senator John Hoeven (R-ND) at its Fargo, North Dakota, USA facility on Tuesday, November 22nd. Senator Hoeven's visit included a plant tour, roundtable discussion on tax policy and a question and answer session with company executives and invited guests.

"As the Senate continues its work on a tax reform package, I appreciated this opportunity at the CNH Industrial plant in Fargo to hear directly from North Dakotans, including local small businesses and our state's key industries about the importance of tax relief. We're working to pass tax reform to grow our economy, create good jobs and raise wages for workers," said Sen. Hoeven.

Established in 1974, the 86-acre facility is an integrated manufacturing facility producing both 4WD Tractors and Wheel Loaders for Case IH Agriculture, CASE Construction Equipment, New Holland Agriculture and New Holland Construction brands, as well as dedicated research and development and test equipment facilities. The site is the home of the Company's most powerful tractor ranges and employs 550 people, exporting worldwide.

"We were honored to host Senator Hoeven," said Aditya Garg, Fargo Plant Manager. "The visit highlights how our flagship products are made here in Fargo. Our employees are proud of the important contribution they make to the local economy and the global manufacturing industry."
