New Holland reveals T9 Auto Command™ tractor at a high horsepower event

- Over 40 New Holland dealer personnel introduced to new T9 Auto Command
- Dealers able to review new features and test drive T9, T8, T7 Long Wheelbase and T7 Heavy Duty models

New Holland recently introduced 42 dealer personnel to the new T9 Auto Command™ tractor at a High Horsepower event that took place at Lodge Farm, Oxfordshire, home to 200 racehorses.

The new T9 features New Holland's innovative Auto Command™ Continuously Variable Transmission (CVT), and the five-model range produces maximum outputs ranging from 429hp to 605hp. The range-topping T9.600 AC is the world's most powerful CVT tractor today. This easy-to-operate tractor takes productivity, efficiency and versatility to an entirely new level.

The event featured the only T9 Auto Command™ model currently in the UK and a line-up of New Holland's other high horsepower tractors, including models from the T8, T7 long wheelbase and T7 Heavy Duty ranges.

The group were taken through product training sessions with New Holland specialists, covering the new features across the four ranges. The dealers were also able to test drive and review the features first-hand.

More information about the T9 Auto Command™ and its availability in the UK and ROI is available from New Holland's high horsepower marketing specialist, Tim Lowden.
