CNH kicks off A Sustainable Year series with a focus on AI

Basildon, April 30, 2024

Today, CNH announces the first in a series of stories to be featured in its latest A Sustainable Year magazine. The annual publication promotes the company's innovation and sustainability initiatives.

The first story explains how humans can learn to trust the recommendations of artificial intelligence (AI). AI has broad manufacturing applications that can increase efficiency and productivity, so it is important to understand how it arrives at its conclusions.

This is why CNH is exploring the potential of explainable AI (XAI) with the XMANAI (eXplainable MANufacturing AI) project in San Matteo, Italy. Included in this story is an interview with academic expert, Dr Fabio Grandi, from the University of Modena and Reggio Emilia.
