LVCVA Board of Directors Elects Officers

Commissioner Lawrence Weekly Reappointed as Chairman

LAS VEGAS – The Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority’s (LVCVA) Board of Directors unanimously elected Board officers during the January meeting.

Clark County Commissioner Lawrence Weekly was named Chairman of the Board for a second consecutive term. Weekly is the LVCVA Board’s 20th chair to serve since 1955. Commissioner Weekly is also the first African-American to serve as the LVCVA’s Board Chairman.

During the LVCVA’s January Board of Directors meeting, Clark County Commissioner Larry Brown was also sworn in as a board member. Brown rejoins the LVCVA after serving on the board from 2003-2008.

Chuck Bowling, president and chief operating officer of Mandalay Bay, was selected as Vice-Chair. Bill Noonan, senior vice president of industry and government affairs for Boyd Gaming Corporation, serves as Secretary. Cam Walker, Mayor Pro Tem of Boulder City, has been appointed Treasurer.

LVCVA Board officer elections are held in odd numbered years. The term of office for all officers is two years.

Photos of the new officers are available upon request.

ABOUT THE LVCVA

The Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority (LVCVA) is charged with marketing Southern Nevada as a tourism and convention destination worldwide, and also with operating the Las Vegas Convention Center and Cashman Center. With more than 150,000 hotel rooms in Las Vegas alone and nearly 11 million square feet of meeting and exhibit space citywide, the LVCVA’s mission centers on attracting ever increasing numbers of leisure and business visitors to the area.
