

STORY SLUG: Maternal Health

SPONSOR: American Heart Association

FORMAT: TV/RADIO :30

ISCI: DEF101802M3H

SCRIPT

Pregnancy related deaths in the U.S. are on the rise. The reason? Cardiovascular disease. And Black, Hispanic, and Native American women are the most at risk.

I never thought my pregnancy could cause heart failure.

I experienced my first heart attack after the birth of my son.

But high blood pressure, gestational hypertension and diabetes can put mom and baby at risk.

Visit GoRedforWomen.org/pregnancy to learn more. Because my health is our health.

((END SLATE))

LEARN MORE:
GoRedforWomen.org/pregnancy

((END SLATE))

LOGOS