00:00	GV of Guangzhou city and Volvo Ocean Race village Images of Jiru Yang 'Wolf', Liu Xue 'Black' and Chen Jinhao 'Horace'	For the past 5 days, China's City of Flowers, Guangzhou, has hosted Volvo Ocean Race 2017 – 18. Nansha Marina was transformed to host the international fleet in the race's fourth visit to China in succession. The race village at Nansha Marina has drawn Chinese race fans all week - keen to connect with the race and, in particular, to meet the China's ocean racing stars competing aboard home-town heroes, Dongfeng Race Team. The stars of the show have definitely been the Chinese sailors aboard Dongfeng Race Team. To the English audiences they go by the names Wolf, Black and Horace, but to their fans at home they've become poster boys for ocean racing and sailing in general in China.
00:57	Liu Xue "Black" Dongfeng Race Team	IV "It's very nice, you can see just behind us, we have our sponsor team Dongfeng, Dongfeng company is here. And all the red shirts, and when we dock in we have a lot of friends that say hello, with the Chinese flag for us, waiting for us, so that's fantastic and amazing for me."
01:14	Charles Caudrelier Skipper Dongfeng Race Team	IV "Yeah, I think it's a very important week for us for sure, this stopover in China. I think it's very important for the race to be here, and I'm sure it will be a nice stopover, because the Chinese people are very friendly, very nice. And will be a fantastic host I am sure."
01:29	M32 boats racing	The Pearl River delta provided the perfect playground for the M32 catamaran "Guest Speed Experience", a chance for the public to sail the carbon fiber, 32ft light weight catamarans - some of the best multihull sailors in the world treating guests to a once in a lifetime race experience.
01:55	Sailors parade before the Dongfeng In-Port Race and images of the race Route animation, Dongfeng Race Team hooked to the mark and crew trying to disentangle Onboard MAPFRE, celebrations	Saturday saw the teams take to the water for the Dongfeng In-Port Race, in Guangzhou. Home team, China's Dongfeng Race Team were tied on points with Spain's MAPFRE after four rounds, going into the race, but leading overall with one more race win. At the start, Dongfeng Race Team skipper, Charles Caudrelier, pushed hard, unfortunately finding himself over the line early before the start gun, then, disastrously, tangled on the mark when returning to re-start, bringing them to a complete stop while the rest of the fleet continued to the first upwind mark. MAPFRE controlled the race from the start, out-sailing their opponents, going on to take their second win of the In-Port Series.
02:39	Xabi Fernández Skipper MAPFRE	IV "We just finished the In-port race here in Guangzhou, in China. And of course very happy with the result after winning the race, yeah pretty tricky, very short course here in the river, and a lot of manoeuvres, so very happy with the result."

02:53	Close racing of Team Brunel and team AkzoNobel; animation	Behind them, Team Brunel and team AkzoNobel fought relentlessly for second place over the compact race course, Team Brunel finally edging ahead on the last downwind leg to take second place, team AkzoNobel in third.
03:10	Bouwe Bekking Skipper Team Brunel	Andy Green – Race Village MC “Do you think having 2 less people onboard helped today?” “Yeah I think downwind it definitely helped, so that’s when you sail with the gennaker, but of course the maneuvers are a bit harder, but yeah we did a nice job, so we take the second place for the day.”
03:24	Simeon Tienpont Skipper Team Akzonobel	IV “We were very happy to be in the top three of the fleet, and we had a good battle with Brunel all the way around, but you know this time we had to let them go.”
03:36	MAPFRE prize giving ceremony; overall In-port series scoreboard	MAPFRE’s win establishes them with a five-point lead as In-Port series leader, Dongfeng Race Team’s trouble at the start costing them their joint overall lead over their Spanish rivals - MAPFRE now on 32 points with Dongfeng Race Team second on 27. Team Brunel’s hard-fought second sees them maintain third overall in the In-Port series, with team AkzoNobel still in fourth, now two points behind.
04:03	General ocean racing shots with GV’s of Auckland Race Village	Next, the Volvo Ocean Race fleet head to Auckland . 6,100 nautical miles, back across the South China Sea, down into the Pacific, before arriving to the City of Sails, Auckland, New Zealand - a frequent stopover for this race since the second edition in 1977-78 - packed with a sailing mad population, who’ll no doubt turn out in numbers to welcome the fleet for the tenth time.
