Cantonese Master Chef Tam Kwok Fung is the mastermind behind Chef Tam's Seasons, the new concept restaurant at Wynn Palace opened last year. Through his seasonal tasting menu, Executive Chef Tam carefully curates the ingredients for each dish based on micro-changes in regional climate, locally and internationally. The seasonal delicacies for each dish are prepared in accordance with time to carefully harmonize the five flavors, and Chef Tam's philosophy of the 24 solar terms pays tribute to the cultural traditions of Chinese culture. At his new concept restaurant, Chef Tam remains committed toward carrying on the legacy and authenticity of Cantonese cuisine with a blend of East and West, while also introducing contemporary concepts and techniques to add even greater vitality to traditional Cantonese cuisine.

Wing Lei has received the coveted Michelin honors for fifteen consecutive years. At the helm of Wing Lei is Executive Chef Chan Tak Kwong – a master at creating classic Cantonese dishes with a creative touch. Chef Tak is committed to preserving the authenticity and traditions of Cantonese cuisine, while also infusing innovative ideas into each one of his creations. Under his leadership, the experienced chefs at Wing Lei source the freshest ingredients of the season and apply the most meticulous cooking techniques to present each dish with perfection.

Mizumi at Wynn Macau remains as the only Japanese restaurant in Macao to earn two MICHELIN stars, and consistently presents the best Japanese dining experience outside of Japan. Executive Chef Hironori Maeda, who oversees Mizumi, uses only the finest seasonal ingredients sourced directly from Japan and around the world to present authentic kaiseki cuisine and an extraordinary "sushi omakase" experience. Renowned for his remarkable precision and artistry in hand-crafting masterful dishes, he creates a harmonious blend of taste, texture and presentation for guests of Wynn Macau.
