The Lamborghini Terzo Millennio at the Festival Automobile International of Paris

Automobili Lamborghini S.p.A.

Sant'Agata Bolognese/Paris, 31 January 2018 - The Lamborghini Terzo Millennio, the design concept of a possible future Lamborghini electric super sports car, is displayed at the 33rd edition of the Festival Automobile International in Paris from 31 January to 4 February.

Presented last November in the USA, the Terzo Millennio, realized by the Lamborghini Centro Stile, physically imagines design and technology theories of tomorrow, while sustaining the visual intrigue, breath-taking performance and, most importantly, the visceral emotion found in every dimension of a Lamborghini. It is made for future super sports car enthusiasts.

The technological goal of the project is to enable Lamborghini to address the future of the super sports car in five different dimensions: energy storage systems, innovative materials, propulsion system, visionary design, and emotion.

The first two dimensions are conceived together with two laboratories at the MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Technology) in Boston.
