

Automobili Lamborghini and Babolat unveil the next chapter of their collaboration

The new BL003 redefines the padel experience, fusing extreme power, agile maneuverability and bold Lamborghini design.

Sant'Agata Bolognese/Barcelona, February 3, 2026- Following the success of the BL001 and BL002 editions, Automobili Lamborghini and Babolat unveil the next chapter of their collaboration: the BL003 padel racquet, a symbol of an ever-stronger collaboration between two global leaders in performance and innovation. Since the beginning of this pioneering partnership, both brands have shared a commitment to precision, speed, and the pursuit of technological excellence.

The BL003 is the result of a joint development process combining Babolat's expertise in game technology with Automobili Lamborghini's mastery of structural design and advanced carbon engineering. The outcome: an exceptional piece crafted for players seeking cutting-edge sensations and uncompromising technology. Inspired by the DNA of Italian super sports cars, it integrates advanced geometries, high-modulus carbon fibers and an optimized structural architecture to deliver maximum stability, responsiveness and precision with every shot.

Thanks to its lightweight construction and aerodynamic profile, the BL003 offers outstanding manoeuvrability. Its performance is built on the use of next-generation materials:

- 3K Carbon on the surface.
- A carbon frame reinforced with KORIDION, a foam derived from a patented technology used in Lamborghini vehicles.

Hand-crafted at the Babolat Padel Studio in Spain, where the brand's most exclusive racquets are produced in limited quantities, the BL003 features a thermoplastic ABS coating that provides superior comfort at impact and long-lasting durability.

This is the third chapter of a successful collaboration that began in 2024 with the launch of the BL001, a breakthrough padel racquet that introduced Lamborghini's advanced carbon fiber engineering to the game. The debut model was produced inside the Lamborghini manufacturing facilities and was unveiled during Arena, Lamborghini's signature global event dedicated to fans and customers from around the world. Its success was followed in 2025 by the BL002, a model produced at Babolat's headquarters and celebrated for its improved stability, unique material composition, and a design directly inspired by the aerodynamic lines of Lamborghini super sports cars.

These first two releases quickly became collector's items and set a new standard in the premium padel segment. Today, the partnership reaches a new milestone with the unveiling of the BL003 that embodies the competitive spirit of padel and the technical sophistication
